

people engage and participate as citizens people are motivated to support and take part in civic society people feel like citizens state-citizen encounters are designed to enhance a sense of citizenship